

Honor Comes Hard: Writings from California Prison System s Honor Yard (Paperback)

By -

Tia Chucha Press, United States, 2010. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Prison writing has a long and illustrious history in the United States - home of the modern correctional system. In the first decade of the 21st century, this country also garnered the distinction of having more prisoners per capita than any other nation in the world. We need to hear from the incarcerated writings of incarcerated men and women. The largest state prison system is in California with some 175,000 people behind bars in close to 35 facilities. Yet the only approved Honor Yard in the Department of Corrections is at the California State Prison, Los Angeles County, in Lancaster, California. These are the men that despite often-horrendous crimes - many are lifers, with a few going on three decades - have proven their capacity to dream, to create, to write, to change. From poems, to stories, to novel excerpts, to reportage, to personal essays - and a few drawings - Honor Comes Hard depicts what can happen to people who are given, as Clarence Darrow expressed many years ago, a chance to live . The work is drawn from writing classes that Lucinda Thomas...
