Excerpt from Social Non-Conformity: An Analysis of Four Hundred and Twenty Cases of Delinquent Girls and Women The Philadelphia Committee was established to represent the Commission on Training Camp Activities, Law Enforcement Division, in protective and preventive work with women and girls involved with soldiers and sailors near a large military center. It has enlarged its scope to make surveys and reports of various conditions affecting its field. It has also supplied women officers with police power to warn, take home or arrest girls under twenty one who are found picking up men on the streets or in the parks. The cases are followed up by the Committee s workers with the five case societies of the city which deal with girls The Girls Aid; (2) The Catholic Children s Bureau; (3) The Personal Service Bureau (jewish); (4) The Association for the Protection of Colored Women; (5) The white-williams Foundation (for girls of school age). Four hundred and twenty cases which came under the Committee s notice from these agencies, from the officers on the streets and from the reports from the courts...
