Forgotten Books, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Address, Delivered at the Laying of the Corner Stone of the Insane Hospital, at Northampton, Massachusetts The varieties of human condition and the apparent diversities of earthly destiny have been the subjects of observation and of complaint almost from the beginning. For many ages, the world, through all the grades of barbarism and of culture, have seen and mourned over this, and though men of high and of low degree, governments and statesmen, philanthropists, religionists and associations have desired and endeavored to remove the inequalities of the human lot, still we are even now compelled to acknowledge that in all that belongs to man, or that enters into his being, in all that surrounds him or affects him, in all his endowments and blessings, his privations and sufferings, there is no uniformity. Few are, in all respects, alike. Men differ in all things, and in some they differ very widely. Some are endowed with certain powers or enjoyments in the fullest measure, most have them in a medium degree, and some are nearly, while others are quite, destitute of them. Some are rich in this world's goods, many are in comfortable circumstances, and others are very poor. Few are learned in a high degree, most have sufficient knowledge for the safe management of the affairs of life, and some are grossly ignorant.
