Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . fragments: naked bright is a collection of fourteen short stories. Each story is a window offering a glimpse into a world at a moment of crisis. The protagonists may or may not be aware of the significance of the issues they are confronted with, but either way we watch them try to negotiate their paths through these problems, with variable success. All the complex variety that life provides is encountered here: there is humour, romance, triumph and disaster, crime and intrigue, in small packages offering the reader interest, variety occasional challenge and lots of entertainment. Although each story can be read independently, there are links between the tales and the sharp-eyed reader will relish the opportunity to spot thematic connections, re-appearing characters and recurring symbols, and also enjoy tracking progression through the sequence of stories. There follows a brief synopsis of some of the stories, to give you an idea of the breadth and range on offer here: if you prefer to read them cold , look away now! Happy reading! In And no birds sing, Tom Jackson, striving to free himself from the pain of the trauma in his life, opts to distract himself with an evening of country dancing: the outcome is not what he is expecting. Vicky Stark in further and yet further is the first woman to walk on the moon. The mystery regarding her mission is not resolved until the final sentence of the story, but is it the woman more than her mission that properly takes centre stage? Bad Hair Day would be a legitimate alternate title for On a dream . Poor Jane Henderson, a young wife...
