Excerpt: . . . 9 Now, again, at the NTSB, with a group of only 400 folks, and a very small group that deal in the highway issues, we take a look at the macro issues. Highway investigations are normally done at the State, county and local level. We see reports. When we begin to take a look at trends and we believe we can make a difference in a national trend, that's when we step in. One of the things we're looking at right now, and where we believe we can make a significant difference, is in young people getting involved in accidents. The issue is restricting cell phones when you're learning how to drive. That is obviously a skill that you must learn and you should not be distracted while you are learning how to drive. We are working very, very closely with the states to get a provision within their graduated drivers license program that will restrict people that are operating in these GDL programs from using a cell phone or other digital text messaging devices, that type of thing, while they're learning how to drive. That will have a national impact on young people's deaths, young people's accidents, young people's injuries. That's the type of thing we are working on. But if I could go one step further, I personally believe that we're coming into a new era. We're in an era where we can begin the process of preventing the accident, and that is by utilizing technology. Things like electronic stability control becoming features of the automobile, standard equipment, from preventing the rollover, things like short...
