(Bus.) 1307 Fletcher Savings Trust Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind. SInce graduation I have been engaged in the real estate business in Indianapolis. For the past six years I have been connected with the development and latterly with the sale of Brendonwood, a development of country home sites close to Indianapolis. The work has been intensely interesting and Brendonwood itself has received very high praise from some of the leading landscape architects and city planning authorities of America. One compliment which Brendonwood received and which we value highly was a request from the Harvard School of Landscape Architecture for literature describing Brendonwood and its developments for the school library. I feel, therefore, that I have been connected with a very high grade and worth while work. On October 7, 1916, I married Helen Heywood of Indianapolis, Vassar 1912. Two little girls,...
